ITEMS FROM THE PUBLIC: Kate Sherrod on behalf of the Valley Service Organization addressed the Council and stated that they have been trying to get the ball rolling on the Sgt. Tyler Pickett Park project. Ms. Sherrod indicated that they had met with Mayor Glode and Councilman Faust last year to discuss plans for the project. Ms. Sherrod added that for the public record, they would like to know what progress has been made, what the town's commitment is, if funds have been placed in an investment fund for the park project as noted before, and what kind of bookkeeping has been done to determine what the actual accurate budget for the project is.

Mayor Glode responded by saying that he received a call from Terry Creekmore offering to bring in a National Guard Unit to begin the physical and manual work to start on the project. Tony Seahorn has also contacted the town to offer to help where needed including coordinating with the National Guard.

On the funding issues, Mayor Glode added that he is still waiting to work with the American Legion to see what funding they have in place for the project. The town currently has approximately $10,000.00 in an investment fund for the project, plus the town purchased the property as an annex to the Veteran's Island park and recently paid $1800.00 for the survey [Clerk's note: and the $1500.00 for an appraisal] of the property.

Winter would be the contact if the Valley Service Organization wanted to contact someone at the town level.

Community Garden Board: Volunteer Robert Johnson addressed the Council on behalf of the board and pointed out a few points of interest:

The Town and Community Garden Board entered into a legal agreement with the

Wyoming Department of Agriculture

The town should take pride in the garden rather than criticizing the board

Dept. of Ag provided a primary contact as indicated in the agreement. That contact has made site visits and provided overview of the project

The initiative originally came from suggestions that were made by the Voices of the Valley during their review of conceptual plans for the valley

Reviewed work performed by several individuals volunteering their time, hours worked, accomplishments, the student that was hired and the work that was performed

The importance of education for the students and public

The cost to the town is minimal; most of the start up money came from grants, donations and volunteers time. The town provides water, the land (which is no different than the land and water used for a city park)

Mr. Johnson stated those were his comments, expressed to encourage the town council to proudly endorse and support the Community Garden.

Mayor Glode stated that he believes the fundamental question the council is considering is; should the town be the financial agent for the community garden? If someone wanted to donate to the community garden, that donation would not be written off at this time. However, if the community garden was associated with a non-profit (501c3) any donations that were made it would be tax deductible.

Councilman Faust indicated that his full intention was to bring this out to start a public conversation and if it makes sense to look at a 501c3 and if the town makes a decision to move in that direction there would still be time to move in that direction.

Councilman Faust reported that the Department of Ag explained to Clerk Suzie Cox that the remaining grant monies could be transferred to the community garden as a non-profit organization. The town would not be in jeopardy of defaulting and being required to reimburse the Dept. of Ag for any spent or remaining funds.

Discussion continued with no action being taken.

The next meeting of the Community Garden Board will be Monday, February 13, 2017 at 5:30 p.m.

South Central Emergency Medical Services: Nothing to report
