General Assignment Reporter Position at the Saratoga Sun

You: You love to tell the stories of those around you and know there's a story behind the story. You're community-minded and community-driven. You enjoy talking to people, have a passion for writing and are looking to begin or further a career.

Us: We're the Platte Valley's newspaper. We're one of the state's pioneer publications, established two years before Wyoming was granted statehood. Like you, we're community-minded and community-driven. We take our role in the community of watchdog and the first-draft of history seriously. The Saratoga Sun has won multiple awards from the Wyoming Press Association over the years including several individual awards for articles and column writing, as well as Editorial Excellence.

What we expect: A general assignment reporter will be expected to cover a wide-variety of subjects ranging from high school prep sports to local government meetings, writing feature articles on Valley residents and reporting on the outdoor recreation and tourism of the area. The ideal candidate for this position is familiar with word processing programs such as Microsoft Word or Google Docs.

What we can provide: Previous experience is preferred, training can be provided. We also provide Paid Time Off and 401(k) after one year.

Where you will be working: Nestled between the Snowy Range and Sierra Madre mountains, amenities range from fly fishing and hiking in the summer to ice fishing and snowshoeing in the winter. Saratoga is also home to one of the first microbreweries in Wyoming and has a growing food scene. Finally, there's the natural hot springs, free to the public and open 24/7.

The Details: This is a salaried position with a flexible schedule and pay dependent on experience. If interested in the position, or for more information, please email Joshua Wood at wood.saratogasun@gmail.com.

Medicine Bow-Routt National Forests request additional public input on developed recreation fee proposal this Labor Day holiday

Feedback sought from all Forest visitors before the deadline of Nov. 1

(LARAMIE, Wyo.) Aug. 28, 2023 – As the public heads out for some rest and relaxation this Labor Day weekend, the Medicine Bow and Routt National Forests request input on a proposal to charge new and increased fees at 93 developed recreation sites. Informational signs on how to provide feedback are posted at the sites. Increased fees are needed to ensure a high-quality recreation experience for visitors.

Public feedback has been collected via an online story map, email and phone since June 15. A series of public open houses also were held at six locations across the Forests in mid-July. Forest Service staff interacted with attendees to share information, assist with comment submission and answer questions.

"We have received over 75 comments from the public so far and hope there is more to come," said Kristi Murphy, Recreation Program Manager for the Forests and Grassland. "If you visit the Forests — whether taking weekend camping trips with family, hunting and fishing with friends or simply taking a leisurely scenic drive — chances are you visit one of these recreation sites; we want to hear from you."

The proposed fees are based on a detailed market analysis of nearby recreation facilities with comparable amenities. Up to 95 percent of these fees, as authorized by the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act, are directly reinvested into the developed recreation program on the MBRTB. Fee revenue will be used to improve infrastructure, modernize facilities and increase staffing levels.

There are 151 day-use sites and nearly 2,000 dispersed camping sites that will remain fee-free. This proposal would further eliminate the extra-vehicle charge at developed campgrounds. The Forests also offer a $30 annual pass for day-use sites and honor the America the Beautiful interagency passes.

After the public feedback period ends on Nov. 1, substantive comments will be evaluated for any feasible suggestions to be incorporated into the proposal. You can visit the story map and select "Medicine Bow-Routt National Forests" to see locations included in the proposal and provide comment.

Comments also can be emailed to sm.fs.mbrtcrecfees@usda.gov or sent to the MBRTB Forest Service, Attention: Kristi Murphy, 2468 Jackson Street, Laramie, WY 82070. Oral comments must be provided to Kristi Murphy at the Supervisor's Office in Laramie during business hours (Mon.-Fri., 9 a.m.-4 p.m.) or by calling 307-745-2300 and indicating you would like to comment on the proposed recreation fee changes.

For more information on the Forests and the fee proposal, visit our website. Additional information will be made available on social media: @FS_MBRTB on Twitter or @FSMBRTB on Facebook.

Cheyenne Frontier Days High Visibility Enforcement Detail Results

We are thrilled to provide an enthusiastic review of the exceptional performance displayed by our dedicated troopers during the recent Cheyenne Frontier Days High Visibility Enforcement (HVE) Detail. Their remarkable achievements and proactive enforcement efforts have not only underscored their unwavering commitment to public safety but have also demonstrated the profound positive impact of their hard work on both our mission and the community.

Throughout the duration of the event, our troopers exhibited an unparalleled dedication to ensuring safety on the roadways. Conducting an impressive 845 traffic stops, their high visibility enforcement approach served as a potent deterrent against hazardous driving behaviors. Their adeptness in engaging with motorists and effectively enforcing traffic regulations showcased their exceptional skills, resulting in safer roads for both residents and visitors.

The impact of their relentless efforts extended far beyond the realm of traffic stops. The vigilance demonstrated by the troopers led to the identification and arrest of individuals involved in criminal activities. The statistics speak volumes: a total of 22 Driving Under the Influence (DUI) arrests, 13

misdemeanor possession of controlled substance arrests, 3 felony possession of controlled substance arrests, 1 felony warrant arrest, and 9 other arrests, culminating in an impressive total of 48 criminal apprehensions. These outcomes stand as a testament to the troopers' steadfast commitment to upholding the law and safeguarding the community.

One of the most notable achievements of this enforcement detail lies in the significant reduction of motor vehicle crashes. Through their active engagement in HVE operations, our troopers effectively steered motorists towards safer driving practices, resulting in a mere 7 motor vehicle crashes investigated. Perhaps even more remarkable is the absence of any serious injury or fatality crashes during this period, underscoring the direct influence of their efforts on our mission to curtail such incidents.

Beyond their enforcement responsibilities, our troopers played a pivotal role in providing vital support to the local community. Their presence and engagement during the Cheyenne Frontier Days event not only heightened safety measures but also nurtured positive relationships between law enforcement and the community. This invaluable support serves to foster trust and collaboration, contributing to the overall well-being of our region.

As we reflect on the accomplishments achieved during the Cheyenne Frontier Days High Visibility Enforcement Detail, we extend our deepest gratitude to our troopers for their unwavering dedication, exceptional skills, and their resolute commitment to ensuring public safety. Their efforts have left an indelible mark on our mission and the community we proudly serve.
