Bank Burglar Pulls Off a Non-Profit Job Here

Made So Much Noise He Scared Himself Off the Job — No Turkey For His Thanksgiving Our amateur burglar was busy again on Wednesday evening of last week, probably prospecting for the price of a Thanksgiving turkey, and the indications are that he made sufficient noise in his operations to scare himself away just when he had some money in easy reach. His objective this time was the Saratoga State Bank.

Securing entrance to the warehouse of the Saratoga Commercial Co. store, the would-be robber made his way through the store and thence to the bank by removing the screws from the catch of the lock on the connecting door. His footprints on the ledge of the bank fixtures indicate that he then climbed over the office partition and started to ransack the place. Upon opening the cash drawer at the cashier's window, he evidently pulled the drawer clear of the runs and it fell to the floor with a crash whereupon the burglar became panicky and quit the job without further explanation.

According to Cashier Joseph Munz, nothing of value was secured by the robber, although the drawer contained several packages of pennies and some other small change, amounting in all to several dollars, which was found spilled about on the floor.

Cowboy Cage Games Will Be Heard Over Special Wire at the Local Bar

All local fans who are interested in the destinies of the Wyoming Cowboy basketball team, which is starting the season with a game with Montana State at Bozeman tonight, are invited to listen to a broadcast of the games at the Rustic Bar. Charlie

Gould, owner of the bar, announced today that if interest warrants, all the Cowboy games will be heard at the bar over a direct wire service, which assures listeners good clear reception, free from the interruptions sometimes encountered in private radios. These broadcasts are free to everyone who wishes to come and listen.

The Cowboy are starting a three-game series with Montana State at Bozeman tonight. The game tomorrow night will be played at Powell, and the game Saturday night at Casper.

Chamber Offers Prizes for Shopping at Home

Half of beef, freezer ready, is the grand prize in this year's Platte Valley Chamber of Commerce Christmas shop at home promotion.

Other prizes include three $50 gift certificates a week for three weeks and a $25 savings account from the Saratoga State Bank, to be doubled if the winner already has such an account at the bank.

Chairman for the second annual Christmas ie-away is Mrs. Wylie Love, who also spearheaded last year's drive. Mrs. Love, chairman of the chamber's Business Relations Committee, said the current shop at home promotion is proving very successful and she reports most of the stores in the valley "highly cooperative."

The promotion is being handled differently this year, which will result in fewer headaches for all involved, she said. Buyers are asked to sign a coupon at the time of purchase, and it is not necessary to keep a ticket stub.

The prizes will be given on Mondays, Dec. 9, 16 and 23 at 2 p.m. in the parking lot at the Saratoga State Bank. Prizes will be awarded from tickets purchased that week, with all tickets held for the final grand giveaway at 10 a.m. Dec. 24. Ed Cassat of
